(Vila Lanna, Prague, October 14 – 15, 2015)

Call for Papers

Dear Participants of the Prague Conference,

As the incoming Editor-in-Chief, I would like to extend a wholehearted invitation to all of you (both those who presented formal statements and those who participated in the discussions during our meeting) to send your full-length articles to the upcoming issues of Ceský lid: Ethnological Journal. We are planning to publish at least two thematic volumes of the journal in 2016 based on our meeting. For editorial instructions and information on how to submit your article, please visit the journal website at <http://ceskylid.avcr.cz/index.php/ceskylid>. We are also welcoming proposals for thematic volumes of the journal as well as articles for regular volumes. To find out more, please write to me directly at hanacervinkova1@gmail.com, I will be very happy to answer your questions.

Ceský lid: Ethnological Journal (founded in 1891) is a well-established ethnological and anthropological journal in the Czech Republic that publishes original theoretical and research articles in all areas of ethnological and anthropological research. The journal is published four times a year by the Institute of Ethnology of the Czech Academy of Sciences and is indexed in prominent international databases centering on humanities and social sciences, including SCOPUS, ERIH - European Reference Index in Humanities, AIO - Anthropological Index Online, CEJSH - The Central European Journal of Social Science and Humanities) and also in on-line databases, such as EBSCOhost. All articles will be subject to double blind peer review process; upon positive evaluation they will be published within 6 months after they are submitted.

In order to guest-edit an upcoming thematic volume of the journal or to submit an individual article, please contact me during the conference or email me – most preferably by October 31, 2015 in order to ensure a 2016 publication date. I would be grateful to you if you could communicate this invitation to your colleagues who might be interested in publishing with us now or in the future.

I look forward to hearing your ideas and to receiving your contributions!

Hana Cervinkova
